SCREWFIX SEARCH FOR BRITAIN'S TOP TRADESMAN

Trade retailer Screwfix is undertaking a national search for Britain's Top Tradesman and is welcoming entries from across the country.

The multi-skilled tradesman, plumber, builder, electrician or carpenter who is named as Britain's finest will be awarded the Ford Transit van of their choice, worth up to £27,000.

John Mewett, marketing director at Screwfix, said: "Screwfix's Top Tradesman competition is all about celebrating the finest that Britain has to offer – with exceptional skills in their craft and a commitment to professionalism.

"The last twelve months have been tough for all businesses, but tradesmen have diversified and expanded their skills base to get the job done.

"We want to hear those exceptional stories and recognise the lengths that tradesmen go to all in a day's work."

Get involved

Britain's best can log on to www.screwfix.com/toptradesman, register their details and state their case as to why they are Britain's Top Tradesman or pop into their local Screwfix trade counter to pick up an entry form.

Entries close on 20th April, so tradesmen are advised not to delay their entry.
