SCREWFIX SETS UP SHOP IN THE REPUBLIC OF IRELAND WITH NEW WEBSITE

Screwfix, the UK's leading multi-channel supplier of trade tools, hardware, DIY supplies, plumbing and electrical equipment, is proud to announce its first presence in the Republic of Ireland with the launch of a dedicated website, www.screwfix.ie.

The website which launched earlier this month, will give tradesmen and DIY enthusiasts in Ireland access to 15,000+ Screwfix products, all at low trade products. Customers will also be able to benefit from Screwfix's 30 day money back guarantee policy, free returns and free delivery on all orders worth over €75, which can be sent to home or site within two to three working days.

Andrew Livingston, CEO of Screwfix, comments: "It is great to launch our first presence in Ireland and give local tradesmen, handymen and serious DIYers the chance to purchase products at a time that suits them. We already receive 1.5 million visitors to our Screwfix.com site each week and are delighted that we can now bring our successful online proposition to Ireland. A dedicated service that offers added convenience and local prices, will certainly make shopping even easier for our Irish customers."
