TOP TITAN TOOLS GET EXCLUSIVE MAKEOVER AT SCREWFIX

Screwfix is renowned for providing customers with top tools at industry-leading prices and after five successful years in stock, power tool brand Titan has been redesigned to provide customers with even better value and more top benefits. Screwfix customers have exclusive access in the UK to Titan Power Tools, which offer premium performance at competitive prices, with heightened specifications on the key features of each product group of a new stylish steely grey exterior.

The extensive range of Titan cordless drills now have greater drilling capacity and the corded hammer drills also come with metal gear boxes and increased impact power.

Titan's selection of grinders also have metal gearboxes, which provide more power to the disc and Screwfix has ensured that the wide selection of sanders incorporate higher power motors.

The line of Titan saws now has a greater cutting capacity to give users the precision and professional performance they rely on.

With reliability currently at the top of the trade-shoppers' priority list, Screwfix is also providing a two year manufacturer's guarantee and a three metre power cable with each of the products to make sure the tools can meet all of the users' needs. In addition, the range boasts 22 different power tools, including two new Mitre Saws, so the Screwfix customer will always be able to get hold of the right product to get the job done.

John Mewett, Marketing Director at Screwfix, comments: "Titan Power Tools are exclusively available to our Screwfix customers, so we are pleased to be able to offer them even greater benefits and better value for money. The power tools are now more stylish, provide an enhanced performance and are available at industry-leading prices, so we are confident that the new and improved range will successfully meet our customers' needs, whatever the task."
