LOCAL TRADESMAN SCORES PICK-UP TRUCK PRIZE WORTH £20K

Local carpenter and joiner, Mark Johnson, is celebrating after winning a brand new DeWalt pick-up truck worth over £25,000 after being chosen as Screwfix's national 'Vantastic' giveaway winner.

Mark, who is from Walton-on-Thames, entered the 'Vantastic' competition at his local Screwfix store and was picked the winner of the top-of-the-range pick-up truck from 30,000 UK-wide entries.

The competition, which saw Screwfix team up DEWALT POWER TOOLS and national broadcaster talkSPORT during the UEFA Euro 2012 tournament, gave the station's listeners and tradesmen from across the UK the chance to win the truck from Nissan's West Way Dealership in Aldershot, by simply picking up an official 'Vantastic' car sticker from their local Screwfix store and filling in their details to be entered into the prize draw.

Customers could also enter the draw online, with the winner picked at the end of the football tournament.

Mark comments: "I can't believe I have won this amazing prize, it's not every day you win a pick-up truck by simply going to your local Screwfix! The competition was a great way to keep us tradesmen entertained during the Euro 2012 tournament and I am really grateful that I have won the prize, it's definitely made my year!"

John Mewett, marketing director at Screwfix, said: "A big congratulations goes to Mark. Even though England didn't win, we are delighted to be able to present Mark with his prize in celebration of the tournament, and we know from chatting with him that the prize will go a long way to helping his carpentry business."
